

BLACK TORPEDOES WHA

Charles H. Black, veteran Selectman of Wilmington Tuesday night fired a torpedo into the Wilmington Housing Authority, with a prepared statement of 'No Confidence', delivered at the annual Candidates Night of the Baldwin Civic Association.

The Candidates Night, which is the roughest of all political forums in Wilmington, lived up to its billing Tuesday night, as the various candidates were subjected to a grilling by Baldwin members, and especially Atty Roland C. Woods. Woods spent a good part of the evening asking questions that were embarrassing.

One of the series of questions asked by Wood concerned the candidates thoughts on Urban Renewal, now the number one political subject of Wilmington.

Black, in his turn, read a prepared statement, which, he

DIFFERENCES IN PUBLIC HEARINGS

In the past few weeks we have noted a difference in two separate public hearings. The difference is at least worthy of note.

The Board of Selectmen held a public hearing on whether or not to accept Pineridge Road under Betterments. Half a dozen or so of the residents were present. Many were not.

The Selectmen insisted on counting those who were absent as being in favor of the proposal, forcing those who wanted to oppose to speak up.

The Planning Board on the other hand just ask people if they wish to register their choice. There is no compulsion.

At a recent hearing we counted over 20 persons who seemed to be opposed. 10 of these registered their opposition. Those who were absent or who did not speak up were not considered.

We don't know which is the better method,
but there certainly is a difference between the two.

TIME TO VOTE AGAIN

Many times every year we are called on the telephone by people who are upset because of something that has happened - some elected official has riled them, or something that was voted in the Town Meeting has not met their approval.

Each time we ask the person whether or not they had attended the Town Meeting, and had voted. The majority of the answers are in the negative.

All of which brings us to the point. Our annual election is Saturday, and our annual Town Meeting is to be one week from Saturday.

The point is obvious.

THE TRUTH ABOUT HOUSE BILL 1648

We were amused Tuesday morning to note that the Massachusetts Outdoor Advertising Council bought space on the front page of Boston daily papers to tell "the truth about House Bill 1648".

The first thought, of course, was that if their outdoor signs are so powerful why didn't they give their message to the public via their own media instead of using newspapers?

But, aside from that there were misleading statements, in that they allege that the sponsors of House Bill are "encouraged by certain of our competitors".

Of course newspapers are meant by that statement. If a newspaper editor is fighting for uncluttered highways he is, perforce, guilty of encouraging these "certain groups". He is not doing his duty to his fellow people, or so the Outdoor Advertising Council would have the people believe.

The current fight about House Bill 1648 is one in which decent people seek to retain our scenic highways, and further to ensure that our Commonwealth receives its full share of revenues under the National Defense Highway program.

States that restrict signs to a distance of 560 feet in rural and residential areas are allowed $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1% more from the Federal government, in payment for the construction of these highways.

The Massachusetts Outdoor Advertising Council is not interested in having Massachusetts receive this money.

And they go a little further, and seem to allege that they are being deprived of their rights.

There is nothing to stop them from advertising, properly, in industrial districts and commercial centers, in the National Highway Act.

The trouble is that these people are not satisfied with this. They want all the highway.

We know that in Wilmington it is the hope of our people that our new Interstate Highway 93 stays clear and unfettered by billboards, in the rural and residential areas, the Massachusetts Outdoor Advertising Council to the contrary.

mittee are (above) George Robertie and Mrs. M.

SMITH & BLACK CROSS SWORDS

The Board of Selectmen, after a 10 minute executive session
late Monday night unanimously re-affirmed their decision to withhold their approval of a Wilmington Housing Authority
request for additional funds for the Planning Stage of the Urban Renewal project.

The decision was made after a two hour session in the basement of the Town Hall during which every Selectman except Mrs. Drew, and every member of the WHA except Chairman Ernest Rice spoke, and other persons
as well.

Highlight of the evening was an exchange between veteran Selectman Charles H. Black and William Agreeable Smith, oldest member of the Wilmington Housing Authority in point of service.

Field Director

Robert Groberg, Field Director for Urban Renewal, from the Housing & Home Finance Agency
in New York, was the principal speaker. He was accompanied by Herbert Berman, an attorney who is connected with the firm of Foley, Hoag and Elliot, in Boston.

Groberg acted cautiously, trying to get the sense of the meeting. He talked at length on rudiments of the Urban Renewal program, until finally interrupted by Bill Beers,

chairman of the Planning Board.
Mr. Beers wanted to get down to the present day events, a statement that found others in accord.

Originally, Froberg said,
$49,000 was advanced to Wilmington, and later another sum that made the total $62,000.
The $49,000 was, at one time,
believed to be sufficient, he told his audience.

His office had advised the
Wilmington Housing Authority
to make out the Amendatory Application for an additional $16,200, the application which the Selectmen had refused to approve, a week ago last Friday.

The process was a normal one,
he assured the Selectmen, and occurs frequently.

Part of the conversation in the latter part of the discussion centered around a question by Urban Renewal Director
James Franklin, who asked Gro-berg if it were not true that because the Wilmington program
had had certain engineering

TOWN NOTES

Fools' Gold

Walter Buck, of Elia's Store
in No. Wilmington has an interesting rock which he is showing the customers. He found it in Stoneham, where Marble Street and the new Route 93 cross each other.

A lady had told him that blue crystals were to be found in the rock which is being blasted for the new highway, and he sayshayed down for a look, - being that kind of a person.

He didn't find any blue crystals, but he found one piece of quartz with a vein of gold colored mineral in it.

If the mineral were gold it would be worth several hundred dollars, but the chances are that it is iron pyrites, the so-called 'fools gold' that for instance fooled the early colonists of Virginia, and which one man sent back several hundred tons, once upon a time, from Baffin Land to England.

Buck also found a small piece of marble, probably a piece of the vein that used to be in that area, and which gave the street its name. In so far as is known, that was the only place in Middlesex County
where marble could be found,
but it was all excavated years ago.

The New Priest

St Thomas church has a new priest, in more than one sense of the word. He is Father Paul Berube, and he was ordained on Feb. 2nd of this year. Wilmington is his first assignment, and as he expresses it,
it is a 'wonderful assignment'.

Father Berube is, among other things a Mountain Climber. He has climbed most of the peaks in the Presidential Range, in New Hampshire, an achievement of which he is modest. He is a sports enthusiast, tennis -

(let Doc Chernoff take note), baseball, and skating. We suspect he might even go down and join the skating club, one of these fine days.

Father Berube was born in Salem, graduated from St. Annes
in that city, went to Joliet College, near Montreal - where he acquired a fine accent for his French, and then to St.
John's Seminary, in Brighton.

We expect to see him, this spring, coaching the St. Thomas CYO baseball team.

Father Shea was Here

Among the incidental items of news that we have heard this week is the one that Monsignor Albert J. Shea, of St. James in Boston was present at the ground breaking exercises a week ago, at St. Thomas.

The former parish priest of St. Thomas arrived late - which was why some of his parishioners missed him.

Politics

This is the week in which politics rears its head, in Wilmington. Up to now things have been quiet, but there is no telling what can happen in this week.

One of the minor interesting points that we have been noticing during the past week is what we call the Mystery of the Placards.

Both La Rivee and Donahue
have had placards put on telephone poles - Donahue being the earliest - and somehow a number of those placards have disappeared.

Is it a dark and sinister plot - or is it just that the gentlemen didn't have nails with heads on them? Generally speaking we don't approve of placards on telephone poles,
but it seems a shame that all that work has been done and then the placards disappear
a week or two before the election. Sort of Love's Labor Lost, or something like that.

We'll just have to put it down as one of those minor mysteries which probably will never be solved.

work done already the project
was further advanced, relatively, than other programs.

Groberg agreed that this was true.

The $62,000 Question

Several of those present
(cont Pg 5)

"MAY I HELP YOU?" asks fish expert Earl Magnuson. Veteran shoppers like Mrs. G. MacDonald are thrilled to find personal attention no longer a thing of the past.

Woburn grandmother delighted by old-fashioned personal attention at new Woburn Star Market

A special order — no special trouble at Star. Unable to find a five pound eye-of-the-round roast, Mrs. MacDonald asks butcher for one and gets it cut to order.

Tete-a-tete over cheese cake. Mrs. MacDonald confers with delicatessen specialist over how much of this famous Star delicacy to buy, and how long it will keep.

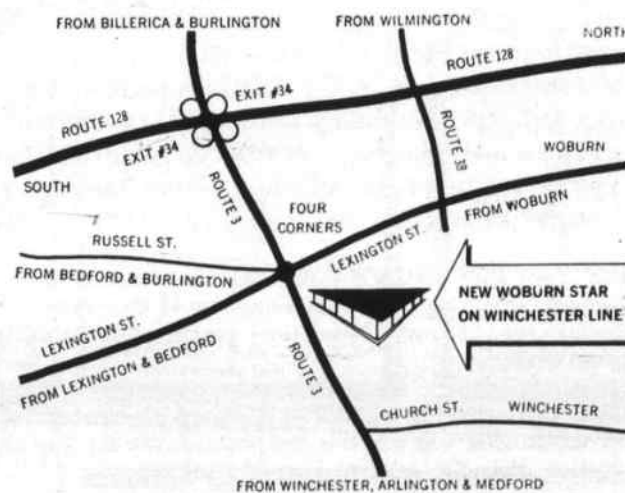

There's much to be said for the personal service offered by the small, old-fashioned market. People like personal attention. And that's just what Star gives you in the new Woburn Plaza market.

Take the fresh seafood department, for instance. Men who know fish stand behind the counter waiting to help you choose the fish you want in just the right amount to avoid waste. All Star fresh seafood is delivered daily, incidentally, direct from dockside to the deep beds of ice at the seafood counter.

There's more friendly service over at the delicatessen, too. You can buy all the old favorites — corned beef, lox, cheese cake — all fresh as can be, under the guidance of Star's expert staff.

You'll find this personal helpfulness throughout the store. If you don't see what you want, in the amount you want, just ask for it. Friendly service is what makes this Woburn Plaza Star Market and every Star Market so special.

It's another reason why you'll eat better by far, if you shop at a Star.

JOHN ELIA AND FRIENDS

JOHN ELIA HAS OPPOSITION AT PLANNING BOARD HEARING

John Elia should have been elected President of the East Wilmington Improvement Association. The association disbanded several years ago, but John is the boy who can bring the people of East Wilmington to meetings.

A good example was last Thursday evening, at the Town Hall, when the Planning Board held a public hearing on a proposal by John to have a business district north of West Street, across the street from his father's store.

Over 20 residents of the area were at the hearing. It was the best attendance in a long time, for a meeting of the E.

Wil. Improvement Assoc.

John explained that he planned a $200,000 development, in Old Colonial architecture, for the five acre tract. He had interviewed all the abutters, with none objecting, he told the Planning Board.

He believed that the area was 'a natural' for business, being only a short distance from Interstate Route 93, and that it would be a substantial improvement to the neighborhood, as well as a revenue producing item, in taxes for Wilmington.

He pointed to the new stores which he has built in North Wilmington, and cited the fact that the people in that part of the town were happy that the stores were there, and that none of the property had had a devaluation as a result.

The neighbors were not impressed. There were about 20 of them present, and some of them let it be known that they did not want a commercial investment in their neighborhood.

One of the arguments presented was that 'the poor devil at Woburn and Lowell Streets' wasn't allowed to have a change in his business, an argument that was at least partly refuted by the Planning Board, who explained that Elia had had his business zoning as a part of the original rezoning of Wilmington in 1955, where the other store had come in for a change later. Planning Board members regarded Elia's proposal as 'an enlargement of a present zone', which remark did not sit well with John's neighbors.

At the end of the hearing 10 of the neighbors signed as being 'against'. Only John and his brother Mike could sign as being 'pro' the proposal.

Other hearings the same night were not so eventful, although there was just as many people present to oppose the changing of zoning of a tract of land on Woburn Street, near the present industrial zone.

All the neighbors who were present were against the change. They cited, several times, the fact that the school buses stopped at the corner of Eames and Woburn Sts and that there was enough hazard now for the children.

The proposal is one that was made by the Selectmen, who sought to rectify an error in the original zoning, back in 1955.

The land is owned by some brothers, the Lyons Brothers, of Medford. They had had the area approved for real estate back in 1951, and then forgot to register the land with the Registry of Deeds. When the rezoning was voted, in 1955, the industrial zone was made to divide their land, so that it can not be used for either residential or industrial purposes. It is this inequity that the Selectmen sought to rectify.

But the Lyons Brothers were not present, a fact that the neighbors did not forget to note to the Planning Board.

A third hearing involved the proposed changes in the Zoning By Law so that cleaning establishments can be conducted in a Neighborhood Business Zone.

Atty Roland Wood represented the owner, and explained that he was seeking a clarification of the law.

The members of the Planning Board were agreeable, providing that Wood so presented his motion, at the Town Meeting, so as to include a phrase restricting the operation to the first story only, and to non-inflammable fluids.

No one appeared in favor or against the proposal to rezone the De Moulas property to a Neighborhood Business, proposed by the Planning Board, or to amend the Zoning By Laws for stricter control of used car lots, also proposed by the Planning Board.

No one appeared, as well, for the proposal to rezone the land near Bedell's Market, off Burlington Avenue, to a Neighborhood Business zone.

asked, from time to time, questions as to the $62,000 already advanced.

Nick De Felice was the first to bring up the subject. He was told that the town could be charged for one third of the $62,000, as part of the final costs. The question then got sidetracked, and Bob Michelson of the Finance Committee brought it up later.

He asked the question three times before he finally got what he considered to be a satisfactory answer - that the town did not have to pay back the $62,000, if for good reason it rejected the idea of going on with Urban Renewal.

Atty Berman was the man who answered the question saying:

If it (Urban Renewal) comes to a screeching halt the town has no obligation. If the Board (of Selectmen) approved this obligation for an additional $16,200, it still would have no obligation to pay, unless a Redevelopment Program is finally developed and approved by the Board of Selectmen.

Michelson still pressed him, and Berman said: "There is no legal obligation if Redevelopment is not approved."

This brought a statement from Agreeable Smith that the new Regional Director in New York had said that he was going to collect advances where projects had been terminated not in good faith.

Berman's opinion was that the $62,000 was going ahead in good faith.

Selectmen Asked First

De Felice: I emphasize that the Selectmen asked for Urban Renewal, and not the Housing Authority. We started it and they picked it up. Since then there has been changes in the town - you just have to ride one eighth of a mile from the project to see changes, with a big shopping center.

I signed some of the requests of the Housing Authority when other Selectmen were reluctant to sign.

I am reluctant to think we can do for $200,000 ---

Dear Larz:

In spite of the misstatement of facts by the Board of Selectmen there is a considerable need for urban renewal in the Town of Wilmington. I would like to set forth a few points of information.

1. Urban Renewal is a Federal program designed to permit communities to undertake improvement projects using Federal funds for slum clearance, conservation, rehabilitation or combinations of these. In our instance at Wilmington Center the Federal government has approved the eligibility of the area on the basis that it is a slum clearance and redevelopment project. Therefore there should be no comments by the Board of Selectmen that the Wilmington Center area is an area requiring immediate attention.

Basically the Urban Renewal problem in Wilmington is no different than in many other communities that are faced with spiraling municipal costs increasing tax rates, and shrinking tax bases.

Remember the issue, not the political ambitions of those who are distorting the facts to further their own political gain. Urban Renewal is needed for sound community growth, for an area that is retarding progressive growth of this fine community.

2. On the matter of the $62,000, advanced by the government to the Housing Authority for the town to carry forth survey and plans for the Urban Renewal project in Wilmington Center. First let it be known that there is absolutely no expenditure from these funds when advanced to the Wilmington Housing Authority on their request, and approval for such request of funds by the Housing and Home Finance Agency, unless there has been a budget form prepared by the Wilmington Housing Authority stating precisely the amount estimated as needed in each budget category.

The budget as prepared is reviewed by the Housing and Home Finance Agency. There is on file in the Wilmington Housing Authority all of the detailed budgets as approved, to the amount of $62,000, for the planning of 'Wilmington Center' Urban Renewal Project Mass R-12. Any reasonable request on the amounts expended will be answered to all Wilmington residents, and also to any auditor. There has been absolutely no expenditure of funds for which prior approval for the budget category has not been received from the HHFA.

There is only one financial record for which the Housing Authority has no records of payments, and that is the $1000 voted in the March 1957 Town Meeting to carry out the work related to the filing of the original application to the Federal Government. The WHA completed the work, but the bills were submitted to the Town of Wilmington for payment by Selectmen's Warrant. There is no record other than the Town Accountant's, and to date the WHA has not been informed of what the balance is on the $1,000 appropriated by the Town of Wilmington.

3. The question has been raised by some people as to the WHA's legal right to be the agency to carry out the Urban Renewal program. Being a law abiding citizen, the Commonwealth law is clear to me as a layman, that under the state law the WHA did have and does still, the right to carry out the Urban Renewal program, as stated in the Survey and Planning Application. This is contrary to the implications of the Board of Selectmen, that there possibly was reasonable grounds to challenge the project initiation.

Again, I state, the law is clear, but apparently at the time the Board of Selectmen called the special town meeting, Oct. 29, 1956, the information on the initiation of such projects under state law was not too clear.

The Town Meeting voted and approved an article stating the need for Urban Renewal in the Town of Wilmington.

The article was not needed then, nor is it needed now. Specifically, I refer you to Article 29 of the March 1960 Town Meeting Warrant requesting ratification of this article as voted in October 1956.

Incidentally may I point out the reason for this and other articles from this special town meeting being in this warrant was because, as has been the usual case lately, the Town Meeting was illegally held. Therefore, although the WHA does not need this article on point of legality, it is designed by the Board of Selectmen to be an indication on the remote abstract reasoning of the popularity, or better yet, the need for Urban Renewal.

Yours truly,
James P. Donahue, Member,
Wilmington Housing Authority

To the Editor:
In recent weeks certain statements have been made about our schools in the press and elsewhere. These comments have been disturbing to the citizens and to the members of the School Committee who are dedicated to the cause of better schools.

The first statement refers to the College successes of our graduates, and a check on recent questionnaires reveals 84% of our graduates are succeeding in their college programs. The guidance director of the High School sent out queries to the graduates of Wilmington High School in the years 1954-58 and received responses from 54%. The results are listed below:

1. Students in 4 Year College. 42 graduated or still in college; 5 change of interests; 3 dropped out (finances); 3 dropped out (marks); 1 dropped out (marriage).
2. 2 - 3 Year Schools - Nursing, etc. 13 graduated or still in school; 3 change of interest; 1 dropped out (illness).

The guidance director reports that recent returns and personal checking show the same ratio as in formal returns. This record appears all the more significant in years when Colleges are establishing more rigid standards, and yet better than 80% of our graduates are succeeding.

The other matter of concern is the statement that the School Committee spends much time on matters of relative unimportance. The community and the teachers are aware that the School Committee met with all the teachers by departments and grades over a period of fourteen months to discuss matters of curriculum and the general program. The Committee felt that this was a most profitable program, and one that helped our schools greatly. Although some items of School Committee business may appear routine, we have the responsibility to act formally on matters of personnel, teachers and pupils, purchases budget and general policy.

We feel that the schools of Wilmington are well staffed and that our graduates are being prepared for a competitive world. Some of us remember short budgets, low salaries and insufficient textbooks and supplies, but we worked hard to remedy these conditions, and we shall continue in the cause for better schools. It is our belief that this can best be effected by cooperative effort and constructive criticism and by no other means.

Sincerely yours,
John F. Hartnett

said, he had been prepared to read the night previously in the Town Hall, but was unable to do so for various reasons. (The statement is printed in full, elsewhere in this issue. Silence followed Black's reading of his statement, and then William Agreeable Smith attacked Black's statement as to the timing of the Urban Renewal project. After some discussion it was tacitly agreed that the project was proposed four years ago, and first voted in Oct of 1956. Smith, however, charged that Urban Renewal was held up for six months by the Board of Selectmen, after the application had been filed. Black said this was not so. The application, he said, may have been held up for a few weeks because the Selectmen wanted the Town Council to check into the town's obligations and the Selectmen's authority to sign. Black thought it was very unfortunate that this had to be brought into a political campaign. Frank McLean, Housing Authority member then asked Black 'What was the reason for the delay in signing - I am told that it took a writ of mandamus to get the Selectmen to sign' Black: That is a misstatement of facts, and if anyone thinks that they can force me to sign a paper by Writ of Mandamus they are going to have a long wait. I knew nothing about this report until last Thursday night at the Hathaway Acre meeting. I can assure you that there was no Writ of Mandamus, and in my humble opinion it would not have done any good, and it would not prevail. Other Selectmen Candidates Questions as to where the other Selectmen candidates stood, on Urban Renewal, did not bring out the same type of answer that Black gave. Kidder, who spoke before Black, reported that he felt that it was basically 'a good thing'. He had tried for three years, he said, to learn and seek information. 'I have serious reservations as to whether we should have Urban Renewal in Wilmington Square, and I cannot find anyone who feels that Urban Renewal is a good thing at the present time.' Kidder referred to the new shopping center, and to 'grapevine reports' that the merchants there were not making money, and wondered if the Urban Renewal authorities could find any buyers for the Wilmington Square property. 'Is this the time, or has the time passed?' he asked. 'We owe it to the merchants in the square to give them an answer' 'If you people don't vote for it I can picture that by spring private enterprise would start to spend money and improve the square. I know that there are several merchants who have plans all prepared, but they cannot act, - their hands are tied'. Then there is the $62,000 question. Charges have been made that the Board of Selectmen feel that they should go no further because the town is obligated to pay back the $62,000. One candidate, last Thursday night, said that it would cost the town an additional $3 on the tax rate. Mr. Groberg, the Field Representative of Urban Renewal, last night answered 'No' to this, and the question was put to him in every conceivable form. He did say that if we should ever try to have another project we would have to pick up one third of the tab on the $62,000. William Agreeable Smith: What did you feel about Urban Renewal three years ago? Kidder: I don't think I had feelings on it at that time. Smith: You agree Wilmington Square is a blighted area? Kidder: The phrase on the paper we were asked to sign had the words 'Slum and Decayed Area', and one member of our Board of Selectmen refused to sign it. The original members of the Board of Selectmen, when Urban Renewal was first thought of - I was not then a member, were concerned with many of the problems in the Square - the traffic pattern, the bridge, etc. One by one we have seen these things eliminated from the Urban Renewal plans -- Smith: Has the need for Urban Renewal disappeared? Is it not needed as much as it was three years ago? Kidder: Possibly, but there might have been a better chance to make it pay off three years ago. (It was at this time that Wood put the same questions to Black, reported before). Rene La Rivee, candidate for Selectmen reported, in reply to Wood's questions that he felt much as did Mr. Kidder, but that he did not have access to facts as Mr. Kidder did and 'I am not in a position to give answers'.

Questions on Town Manager
Among questions put by Wood to the candidates was their position on the Town Manager plan. Kidder was the first to speak on this. He put himself squarely in favor. 'The only way is to have a trained person to administer the government in town'. Rene LaRivee put himself in favor, except for Section 12 of the Town Charter. 'I said last year, and I say again, that I feel that there is too much power' (Absent from the Candidates Night was James P. Donahue, also a candidate for Selectman Mr. Donahue was represented by Charles Peterson, who told the audience that Donahue was attending to business for the Wilmington Housing Authority, of which he is a member).

Jeanne
(fr Fr Pg)

200 of her friends were at the East Boston Airport, at 7:30 pm., in spite of the fact that notice of her arrival was received in Wilmington only 1 hour earlier. Fire Engineers and Police Cruisers escorted Jeanne and a large party in a tour of Wilmington which began at 9 pm and traversed Middlesex Avenue Salem Street and Main Street, after which there was a huge party at the Weinberg home on Burlington Avenue. Denies Rift Story Jeanne stated that the stories that appeared about the coaches of the Olympic team was 'not true'. 'Things were twisted around - it is easy to do.' Jeanne left San Francisco at 9 am Tuesday and flew by jet to New York in four hours, where she transferred to a Boston plane. Her plans at present are uncertain, but she believes she may take a few days off, before returning to college. While at Squaw Valley she lived in a large dormitory with all the other women who were in the competition. It was fabulous, she reports, to look out the windows and see the mountain views. The biggest thrill was the receipt of a telegram from Don Kidder, representing the Town of Wilmington, just before the races started. Jean was the only American woman to receive a medal in the Olympic speed skating contests, a bronze medal for third place in the 500 meter distance.

WILMINGTON METHODIST CHURCH TO BEGIN TWO SUNDAY SERVICES
On Sunday, March 6 two services of worship will be held Sunday morning in the Wilmington Methodist Church. The early service will begin at 9 a.m. and the late service at 10:30 a.m. The Rev. Richard E Harding will begin his Lenten series of sermons based on the Beatitudes of Jesus, entitled 'The Sources of Blessedness.' At the 9 a.m. service the newly organized Youth Choir, under the leadership of Mrs James Todd will sing with Mrs Todd singing, 'O Divine Redeemer' by Gounod during the worship hour. The children and young people of grades four and up will meet in the sanctuary as usual and share in the first part of the service before going to their respective classes. At the 10:30 worship hour, the Senior Choir under the direction of Mrs W. T. Staveley will sing, 'Great and Marvelous' by Turner, and Mrs Staveley will sing 'The Beatitudes' by Malotte. WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

The purpose of the World Day of Prayer is to unite all Christians in a bond of prayer to pray for all the people of the world, and to make an offering for Christian missions at home and abroad. Friday March 4, 1960 is the date designated as 'World Day of Prayer'. An hour service, starting at 10 am. in the Vestry of the Wilmington Congregational Church, has been planned affording members of this community an opportunity to share with people of the world in observance of this day. Many of our women, joining with women all over the world, will be participating in a twenty four hour prayer vigil, starting midnight Thursday March 3rd, through midnight Friday March 4th., making an unbroken chain of prayer world wide.

Mosaic Mural at new Woburn Star much praised for its beauty was designed and executed by Worcester Artist, James Markarian.

MOSAIC MURAL AT NEW WOBURN STAR EXCITES WIDE COMMENT
One of the unique features causing considerable comment and excitement at the strikingly different, triangular-shaped Woburn Star Market is the huge mosaic mural just inside the entrance to the store. It is the work of the prominent young mosaic artist, James Markarian of Worcester, Mass., and was designed by him especially for the new Woburn Star. Measuring 21 feet wide by 15 feet high, it contains over 60,000 individual tiles in a myriad of colors. In the design, a fanciful modern abstraction of three great trees, the artist symbolizes the awe inspiring abundance of Nature as found in today's bountifully stocked supermarkets. Within a few weeks a second mural, about the same size as this one, will be placed on the outside wall at the store entrance. Also designed and executed by Mr Markarian, this mural is the artist's interpretation of the architectural motif of the new Woburn Star - the triangle - which is repeated in an infinite number of combinations in a glowing geometric design.

WILMINGTON GAS STATION
OPERATORS OPPOSE NEW STATION
 Five Wilmington gasoline station operators were present at the Board of Selectmen's public hearing, Monday evening, to oppose the idea of a new gas station being opened on Main Street.

John Ramsey, of the Sun Oil Company, presented plans for a service station across Main St from Fred Cain's garage. A two-bay station, with a 200 foot frontage was planned, he told the Selectmen. Sun Oil plans to buy the land from the North eastern Acceptance Corporation and lease the station to a dealer, with a local man preferred, Ramsey told the Selectmen.

Sam Grant, of Shawsheen Ave. acting as spokesman for the gas station operators, (Doug Anderson, Bill Rich, Pete Cunningham and Charlie Lennox) told the Selectmen that there are 15 gas stations in town, and only 10 were making enough to pay their expenses.

They were told by Selectman De Felice that the Selectmen could not take this fact into account in its deliberations.

Ramsay told the Selectmen that Sun Oil sought to have an outlet in Wilmington, because of the growth of the Town and because of the location here of the Avco plant.

The Selectmen took the case under advisement, and will make a decision, it is planned, next week.

WILMINGTON REGISTRARS UPHELD IN DECISION BY
SECRETARY OF STATE

Secretary of State Joseph D. Ward has upheld the position of the Wilmington Board of Registrars when they refused to register, as a voter of Wilmington, a man who refused to take the required Oath on Penalty of Perjury.

In a letter to Mrs. Esther Russell, clerk of the Registrars Ward said that the local board had acted correctly.

The would be voter appeared at 9:55 pm on the last day of registration, Feb. 15th, before Talbot Emery and Phyllis O'Leary, members of the Board of Registrars, and sought to be registered as a voter in Wilmington. His appearance was just five minutes before the closing time for registration for the annual town meeting.

The man is described as having refused to take the prescribed oath of penalty of perjury, and further as having refused to tell the Registrars as to whether he had been a resident of Wilmington for the required six months, or of the Commonwealth for the required year.

MRS. SYLVIA LEVINE AWARDED
MIDDLESEX HEALTH ASSOC.
SCHOLARSHIP

Mrs. Sylvia Levine, Salem St. North Wilmington, Assistant School Nurse of Wilmington has been awarded a course scholarship for a semester at Simmons College, for study in 'Introduction to Public Health Nursing'. The scholarship was awarded by the Middlesex Tuberculosis & Health Association.

Mrs. Levine is a graduate of Wilmington High School and the Tewksbury State Hospital, and affiliated for one year at the Boston City Hospital.

The award is one of a number of similar scholarships given each year for study in the public health field in the interest of providing qualified and well-informed health personnel for Middlesex County.

BLACK'S STATEMENT ON URBAN RENEWAL

1. Urban Renewal is needed in Wilmington. Wilmington Square is an unprepossessing, business place and a forward looking town like Wilmington has a distinct need for Urban Renewal.

2. Urban Renewal was instituted at the behest of the Board of Selectmen four years ago. Our idea was to have a group of responsible business men in charge, people who understand business and who were willing to act when given authority.

3. Instead the Wilmington Housing Authority by virtue of the statutes took charge, and since then we have had nothing but procrastination.

4. Instead of being an asset Urban Renewal has turned into a liability. Businessmen who have desired to improve their property have, with proper circumspection, hesitated to do so.

5. $62,000 was believed to be an ample sum for the preliminary stages on Urban Renewal. Now, four years later, we are being asked to approve of a request for an additional $16,200.

I for one will not approve until I know what has become of the $62,000. I feel that the least that this board should have is a complete auditor's report on Urban Renewal in Wilmington.

6. It is my belief that the Wilmington Housing Authority no longer enjoys the confidence of the people of Wilmington, a statement that I regret I have to make.

7. Because of this I believe further that Article 29 will be defeated in the March 12th Town Meeting. This I regard as a potentially tragic event.

The article, I may point out, was put in the warrant by the Selectmen in the belief that it was desired by the Housing Authority, and further on advice by the Town Counsel.

Because of my belief as to the outcome of the vote I hope that the article will be tabled in the annual Town Meeting, and voted on at a future date when the problem can be seen more clearly and feelings are not running as high as present.

8. As to the future of Urban Renewal; after there has been more clarification I am perfectly willing to consider further study and, if circumstances warrant I am perfectly willing to vote for Urban Renewal.

However, I reserve my opinion on who should conduct Urban Renewal in Wilmington until such time as we have a clear picture of the subject.
